

Dear Friends,

During my first 100 days as your United States Congressman, it has been my privilege and priority to serve and fight for the people and principles of the central coast of California. With my sense of service and commitment to our communities, I have worked to ensure that our home continues to have a sturdy bridge to the federal government and its resources. Striving to come up with solutions in Washington, D.C. and serving the constituents in the district has entailed a lot of work and travel, but also a great amount of satisfaction. Please click on the link below to see a sample of what has occurred in those first 100 days. As you will see, much has been done. However, please know that there is much more to do in my service to the people of California's 20th Congressional District.

Please know that you can call or contact me at the Congressional offices in Salinas, Santa Cruz, or Washington, D.C. or through the website, which also has more information about legislation, latest votes cast in the U.S. House of Representatives, and the legislative process.

Sincerely,
